The poster has a warm, orange-toned background with scattered autumn leaves. At the top, the title "Fall Fest at First Methodist" is written in a large, flowing, orange script font. Below it, the date and time "October 25 5:00-7:00 PM" are in a bold, dark red, sans-serif font. Underneath, the activities "Chili, Inflatables, Trunk or Treat" are listed in the same dark red font. The phrase "Free Family Event" is prominently displayed in a large, bold, dark red font, with a large orange leaf graphic behind it. On the left side, there is a cartoon illustration of a red pickup truck's bed filled with autumn items: sunflowers, pumpkins, apples, and a football. On the right side, there is a cluster of pumpkins, including one with a carved jack-o'-lantern face, and some acorns. At the bottom, the location "First Methodist Church Enterprise Family Life Center 202 S Edwards St." is written in a dark red, sans-serif font.

Don't Miss the Truth

A Word from Pastor Matt

The spooky season is finally here, and prayerfully, so is the fall weather! While we don't see it as much in South Alabama, the fall leaves begin to change colors and trees become dormant. Growing up in North Alabama, this change happened in October, and it was always my favorite time of the year. To drive down some of the old curvy back roads of my hometown in the fall was always so special to see orange and brown leaves dropping along the road and the forest beds covered in these leaves. Imagine driving down the backside of a mountain, coming around a curve and seeing a canopy of trees that have changed color swaying in the wind. Makes me want a bonfire and some coffee! I love fall; I love it so much I follow multiple pages on social media from Stowe, Vermont, and other New England states just to see those colors in full form.

On a spiritual note, fall and winter are impactful seasons, too. They give us a visible example of a crucial part of our spiritual life. As we grow in Christ, we are always growing even when it isn't visible, like a tree becoming dormant. However, many of us miss the beauty of what occurs in these seasons of dormancy. In the Gospel of John, Jesus speaks about being the Vine, and the person of God being the Vine Dresser. He tells us clearly that we must abide with Him in the Vine, and He will abide with us. One crucial detail about landscaping is knowing when to prune, when to trim the vine and the trees, and when to prepare for the expansive growth and blooms of spring. Generally, you prune trees and certain shrubs in the fall to produce greater growth, prettier blooms, and stronger foundations when spring finally arrives. This fall, my encouragement to you is not to miss the beauty of the changing leaves, and don't miss the truth for our souls behind it either. Just because it doesn't look or feel like we are growing doesn't mean something isn't happening. Maybe we are in a season preparing for what's to come.

Pastor Matt

*When fall comes to New England
And the wind blows off the sea
Swallows fly in a perfect sky
And the world was meant to be*

Pastor Billy's Notes

Great Is His Faithfulness

We all have had disappointment and sorrow in our lives; times when we feel like no one cares or understands the hurt and pain we are going through. We wonder why God does not step up and make everything right. I hope the words from this beautiful hymn will bring comfort and peace to your life during these most difficult times.

The writer of this poem, Thomas Chisholm, was born in a Kentucky log cabin in 1866, and when he penned these words, he was 57. His health was never strong, and though he sensed a call to ministry, he served as a Methodist minister for only one year before needing to resign because of his frail health. He led a simple life selling insurance and wrote poetry, which he submitted to many Christian publications.

These past six years have shown great change, and our world has shifted. There were several years of cancelled plans, new routines, widespread restrictions, social and political unrest, wars and mass shootings, wildfires, hurricanes and storms, earthquakes, and a worldwide pandemic. Life has not gone as we planned. The world is morphing right before our eyes and, like me, I am sure you are searching for normalcy. What can we lean on when nothing feels normal anymore?

Hebrews 13:8 says, "Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever." The one constant in all the universe is God. In this great hymn, we can hold on to these words: Great is Thy faithfulness, O God my Father. There is no shadow of turning with thee. Thou changest not, thy compassions they fail not. As thou hast been thou forever will be. God's character is unchanging no matter what is going on around us. He is reliable; He is our refuge, and we can count on him every minute of every day. God remains constant.

When we walk in the sun, we cast a shadow, and every little motion we make causes that shadow to change. When you turn left or right, your shadow changes. As your shadow changes, you can be certain that your direction has changed also. But God is truth, and we will never get off course; His shadow will never change. God invites us to walk in the protection of His shadow that never changes, pointing out to us God's consistency. In Malachi 3:6, God Himself says, "For I the Lord do not change..." God does not distance himself from us during a health scare, financial crisis, schisms, wars, or anything else that comes our way. God's grace is infinite, His forgiveness unending, His love and compassion complete. God's faithfulness to us never shifts, not even slightly.

The world may be transforming all around us, but God remains steadfast. So put your faith and trust in Him, someone who knows your every need. In the coming days, you can move ahead with a purpose, knowing that God loves you and He is your solid rock.

So be thankful that God loves you with an unending, unwavering love. Write these words upon your heart, memorize them, and say them often.

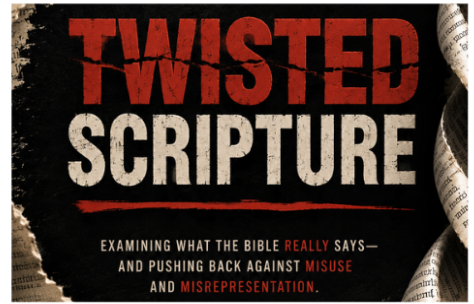

*Great is Thy faithfulness, O God my Father.
There is no shadow of turning with Thee.
Thou changest not,
Thy compassions they fail not.
As Thou hast been Thou forever will be.*

In our student ministry on Wednesday nights, we've been talking about Twisted Scripture. Here are a couple of the stories/verses we've discussed:

Did God “give David a Goliath”? Is it an “underdog story”?

Do we have Goliath problems?

We often read David and Goliath as a motivational story: You are David.

Your problems are Goliath. Trust God, and you can defeat your giants.

But that isn't the story 1 Samuel is telling. Israel had asked for a king who would “fight our battles” (1 Samuel 8:20). When Goliath appeared, King Saul was terrified and stayed in his tent. But David, the young man God had just anointed as Israel's future king, stepped forward. David explained why: “The battle is the LORD's” (1 Samuel 17:47).

The story isn't primarily about discovering the courage to conquer our problems. Nowhere in the story does it say that David viewed himself as the underdog. Instead, he saw Goliath as the underdog because he didn't have God on his side. And God didn't give David a Goliath. When David heard Goliath challenging and taunting the Israelite army, he got involved. This story is about God delivering his helpless people through his chosen king, which points to the Greater King and a bigger salvation to come.

Application: You are not David in this story, and you don't have “Goliaths” to defeat. We are not the hero of the Bible. David is not the hero of the Bible. Jesus is the hero. Instead of asking, “What's my Goliath?” ask, “What does this passage teach me about God?” and “How does this story fit into the big picture of what God is doing in David's life, in the nation of Israel, and in the entire biblical narrative?”

“I know the plans I have for you...”

Jeremiah 29:11 is often quoted as God's promise that our personal plans will work out. But Jeremiah was writing to Israelites exiled in Babylon, and God had just told them they would remain there for seventy years! The promise wasn't immediate success or future success, or God's guidance in the next chapter of life. And it wasn't to individuals. The “you” in that verse is plural. In Southern, it reads, “I know the plans I have for y'all...” The promise was that even during a long, difficult exile, God had not abandoned his people or his purposes for them.

Both passages remind us that before asking, “What does this verse mean for me?” first ask, “What did it mean in its context?”

KID MIN NEWS

HELP NEEDED

Fall Fest is October 25th

Needed:

Decorated Trunks

Pots of Chili

Helping at Event

Individually Wrapped Candy

Let Milesa know if you can help in any way

HUGE THANK YOU

Kid Min would like to say a big thank you to the Men's Ministry for their donation. We needed some toys, coolers, bean bag chairs, and carts. Thanks to their donation we were able to get all these items. Our kids are enjoying all the new toys and bean bag chairs (we don't have to fight over them now).

KID SPOTLIGHT

Jon David Scott

Jon David is in 6th grade. He likes going to the movies and his favorite food is pizza. He loves going to arcades, playing Nintendo and anything Pokemon. In Kids, he is always inquisitive and one of the first to find any Bible verses. His favorite Bible story is David and Goliath. His favorite Bible verses are Psalm 46: 8-10

October 2026

There are many exciting things happening at Mom's Day Out and Stepping Stones Preschool as we move into October.

On Tuesday mornings children in our 2, 3, and 4 year old classes gather in the sanctuary to hear a Bible story led by one of our church staff, and pray The Lord's Prayer. We appreciate so much that our Pastors, Music Director, Children's Director, Family Ministers Director, Hospitality coordinator and volunteers take time from their busy schedules to help our children grow spiritually and learn about the Bible. Focus On Kids will be at our school to take individual photos of all of our students. Siblings will be photographed individually as well as together on October 6th and October 7th. More information about photos will be coming home soon in your child's daily folder.

On Thursday, October 1st, students in the Bumblebee, Duck and Frog class will be going on a Field Trip to Aplin Farms.

We will have our MDO/SSP Trunk or Treat on Thursday, October 29th @ 9am. Each Family will be asked to send one bag or box of individually wrapped candy, cookies, chips, fruit snacks or small toys. We will also need a few parents to volunteer their time and Trunk for this event. Please contact Tammy at 334-393-2536 or email her at mdo@fmce.church if you are interested in volunteering.

Where Your Loved Ones Are Loved

Respite Ministry at FMCE is enjoying the fall season these days. We have had themes based upon fall scents and smells, football, fall's bountiful harvest, and more to come. One of our presentations recently was by one of our volunteers, Mike Babski, who was honored to go on an Honor Flight for veterans to Washington, D.C. Mike told us all about it and said that it was the war homecoming he had always wanted. We contributed by writing letters to him to be received and read out loud at "mail call." What an honor for us to help honor one of our veterans and to have Mike as a volunteer!

Respite friends and volunteers had an August service project of making 20 centerpieces for the First Responders Banquet at FMCE. We constructed red, white and blue "floral" arrangements made of pipe cleaners and dressed up with tissue paper. It was an honor to be a part of that night of celebration for our hometown heroes.

Respite is a ministry that blesses our friends in various stages of dementia, our caregivers who need some time off to take care of business or rest, and our Respite volunteers, who get as much or more out of our days together as anyone else! Come and check us out on Tuesdays and Thursdays, 10 am to 2 pm in the Fellowship Hall! You will find yourself quite at home, and you'll have a wonderful day.

Thank you, as always, for your support and prayers.

ENTERPRISE CELEBRATE RECOVERY

A Season of Change, A Legacy of Hope

Autumn reminds us that change can be beautiful. Leaves that were once green turn brilliant shades of red, orange, and gold before finally letting go. The air becomes cooler, the days grow shorter, and creation quietly announces that a new season has begun.

Autumn also reminds us that not all growth is visible. While the world above the ground appears to be slowing down, important work is happening beneath the surface. In the same way, God is often doing His deepest work in us before anyone else can see the change.

During autumn, trees draw nutrients from their leaves and store energy in their roots. New buds may already be forming in preparation for spring. Seeds fall to the ground and wait for the right conditions to grow, while fallen leaves begin enriching the soil for future life. What may appear to be an ending is really preparation for something new.

Recovery can feel much the same way. There are seasons of letting go; releasing old hurts, harmful habits, and the need to control. There are seasons when change is obvious and exciting. But there are also quieter seasons when we may wonder if anything is happening at all.

During those times, God is still working behind the scenes. He may be strengthening our roots, healing wounds we have carried for years, teaching us to trust Him, or preparing us for growth that has not yet become visible.

“There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens.”

— Ecclesiastes 3:1

This October, Celebrate Recovery at First Methodist Church Enterprise is celebrating a very special season: 15 years of changed lives!

For 15 years, people have walked through our doors carrying pain, shame, fear, addiction, grief, anger, and brokenness. Here, they found a safe place to be honest, a family that welcomed them, and (most importantly) the hope and healing found in Jesus Christ.

Every testimony shared, every chip received, every prayer prayed, and every courageous step taken represents a life God is transforming. What began as a ministry has become a family - a place where people discover that their past does not define them and that no one has to face life's struggles alone.

This anniversary belongs to everyone who has helped make Celebrate Recovery possible. Thank you to those who have served, prayed, given, invited others, prepared meals, cared for children and teens, led groups, shared testimonies, provided worship, and offered a warm welcome. Some contributions are visible, while many happen quietly behind the scenes - but every act of service has helped create a place where hurts find hope.

As the leaves change around us, may we remember that God is still changing lives. Even when progress seems slow or growth is hidden, He is faithfully working beneath the surface.

Here's to 15 years of healing, freedom, and hope and to the beautiful new seasons still to come!

Celebrate Recovery meets every Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at First Methodist Church Enterprise. There is a place for you here.
